Resolved Issues

This release addresses the following issues:

- Sick leave balances were incorrect when the last review falls on 29 February. This has been resolved.
- The “Employee’s work pattern” report now supports a reporting range of up to 520 weeks. This report is available from the Employee Holiday Pay Entitlement window (Modify Employee Details > Leave tab > Holiday Pay). Open the report by clicking the link under Days Worked Each Week:

Employee Holiday Pay Entitlement

Employee Holiday Pay Entitlement

You are setting the holiday pay entitlement for Test who started on .

Step 1 Select Calculation Method

Calculation Method - Company Default - Annual Leave - Custom

- Set here the holiday pay calculation method for this employee.
- Until a selection is made in this field, holiday pay is calculated for this employee using the setting of the default
- This setting can be changed after an employee has been paid, in which case all information is recalculated for th

Step 2 Confirm Regular Entitlements

Weeks Holiday Each Year - 4 Weeks

- This field defaults to the setting of the company weeks holiday each year, which itself defaults to 4 weeks.
- You can enter any value you want.
- If increasing the annual entitlement after an employee has worked for some time, there is a Wizard to assist.

Days Worked Each Week - 5 Days

- This field defaults to the setting of the company days worked each week, which itself defaults to 5 days. You can
- It is used to determine an employee's average daily pay between certain dates.
- If the employee has irregular working days, then you can opt to choose between their longest week or their aver, more information.

Step 3 Enter Opening Entitlements

- When an employee with the Total Remuneration option ticked took Annual Leave, the Reduce Salary by Usual Only option did not calculate correctly—it took off an extra KiwiSaver amount, which caused the gross amount to be less than usual. This has been resolved.
