

Changing your AccountRight product

If you've upgraded from a lower AccountRight product to a higher AccountRight product, some command centres might not show. For example, if you've upgraded to AccountRight Plus or Premier (Australia only) and you've never used payroll features before, the Payroll command centre won't appear. Similarly, if you've upgraded from AccountRight Basics to AccountRight Standard, the Purchases and Inventory command centres won't appear.

But don't panic, if your AccountRight subscription entitles you to use a higher AccountRight product, it's easy to change—see the steps below. If you want to change your AccountRight subscription, contact us and we'll make it happen.

Try before you buy

AccountRight lets you try any product in the AccountRight range by using the sample company file (Clearwater). This means if you're entitled to use AccountRight Basics or Standard, you can take a look at the features and functions in a higher product, like AccountRight Plus or Premier.

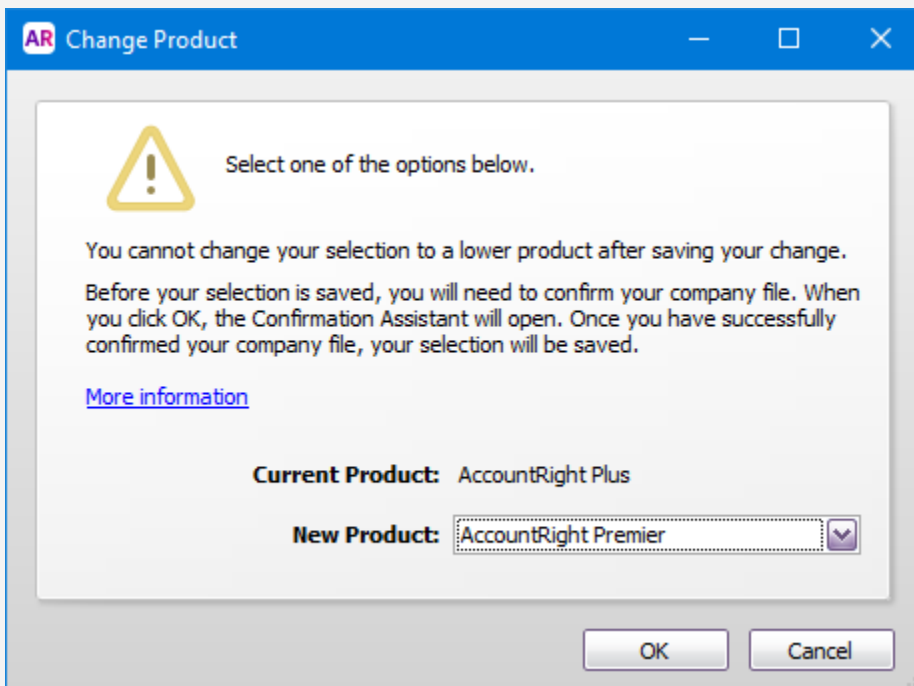

To change your AccountRight product

Although you can explore any product level with your software, you can only upgrade files to a higher product level (for example, from AccountRight Basics to AccountRight Standard, AccountRight Plus, or AccountRight Premier).

Here's how:

To change your AccountRight product

1. Open your company file.
2. Go to the Help menu and choose Change Product. If this option isn't available, see the FAQs below.
3. Select the product you're changing to.

4. Click OK. You'll be prompted to confirm your company file in the new product.
5. Confirm the company file.

FAQs

Why isn't the Change Product option available?

Related topics

New look and feel
Upgrade to the new AccountRight
Company file changes
Improved security
Better ways to manage your information
Easier ways to customise your information

From the community

More »